DR. RALPH'S PILLS
OR UNIVERSAL
DOMESTIC VEGETABLE MEDICINE, IS FOUNDED ON THE
ONLY PRINCIPLE IN NATURE on which an Universal Remedy can be safely and consistently recommended to the World
The following remarks on the nature of that great principle on which this Medicine is founded and on the manner in which it is applicable to all Diseases are addressed to the COMMON SENSE
of every reasonable mind along person
Although it is not generally understood yet there is implanted in the human body a wonderful connecting principle which unites the ORGANS OF DIGESTION with every separate or distant part of organs—and, consequently also with every disorder that can befall the human family
To understand this subject fully it is necessary to be acquainted that nature has supplied a large and precious nerve for the very purpose of connecting the Organs of Digestion with each separate part of the body Unlike all other nerves which begin in the brain and are there distributed to every other part this nerve originates near the Digestive Organs and terminates in the brain In this course however, it unites with nerves which are sent from the brain to every part of the body, and thus a universal connecting principle established Hence in consequence of this chain of connection by no means otherwise can be made upon the stomach or intestinal passage which is not capable of affecting any distant part of the body, while no disease can originate in any distant part without affecting the organs of digestion But it is not only in diseases in distant parts of the body have the effect of disturbing the digestive organs, for it happens that whenever these organs are once affected, this disordered condition sooner or later reacts upon the original disorder and greatly aggravates it Thus in Gout, or Rheumatism or any kind of painful disorder, it will be found that a torpid or inactive stomach is disturbed on the bowels constipated so as the pain and fever attending such complaint increased and aggravated It is therefore a fact which accords with reason as well as every day experience that a medicine which controls the varying action of the Digestive Organs must prove exceedingly extensive in the range of its utility
Thus, the numerous disorders arise mainly from a disturbance of this system, the Liver, the Stomach, or the Bowels, but let these spring from whatever cause they may the cure it continue long with unvarying one or other of these organs and hence this remedy which operates to a cure when the stomach promote the secretions of the liver and regulate the Bowels is the most natural safe and universal that can be applied Pain is the effect the very means by which nature first takes to these wonderful and painful cures when taken with, so that upholding the natural resources of every constitution, we hereby give to nature the full advantage of her powers
Again with respect to the SAFETY OF THE BODY
this is the only way to make it pure The principle source of impurities of the blood are produced only in consequence of the Organs of Digestion and if this are not correct, all other purifiers of the blood are useless
THE PECULIAR SAFETY
of this Medicine is another circumstance which is worthy
COMMENDING TO SOCIETY,
there being no fear of taking it improperly in any case whatever What disorder is there in existence that can ever be injured by a medicine that strengthens the feeble and dyspeptic stomach, corrects the vitiated humors of the Blood, and cleanses and restores the natural action of the Powers? If the reverse, no one human can continue any length of time, or amount of any danger without disturbing the one or the other of these organs then it follows as the plainest truth, there is no disease but which does not fall within the reach and influence of this medicine nor any one in which it might not be used in some degree or other for the same reason, no person can doubt a moment as to the safety and propriety of his or her constant Moreover the pure and simple virtues of certain vegetable remedies being now entirely separated from their useless and injurious parts, these Pills are brought to act with a certainty and safety that was never thought of heretofore Hence to an enquiring mind no further reason can be given than many of them without acknowledging this truth and as they contain
NO MERCURY,
so any number that may be required may be taken with perfect safety for any length of time
It is not however meant that any single remedy is alone sufficient for the cure of all diseases and this the more important to remark as many have pretended to have such medicines On the contrary, it is stated in a plain and candid manner that there are diseases which absolutely NEED this and OTHER remedies and some indeed in which they cannot be withheld a single day without the greatest danger
In accordance with this Dr Ralph is pledged in all his publications to point out these circumstances and the remedies required He has done so even in the wrapper accompanying every box
He feels it therefore a duty to repeat explicitly that although these pills are to be found in which these pills have not been taken with great advantage and in many diseases have performed a perfect cure alone, yet there are complaints which badly need the aid of other means and some in which such other measures cannot be withheld with safety

THE PARLOR MAGAZINE
J. T. Headley, Editor.
THIS Magazine is ably conducted under the care of J T Headley one of the most popular writers of the day and is filled with original matter from the pens of Headley, Washington and Miss Leslie, Letters from Lady & Co We have said nothing in saying that this Magazine deserves to fill a large place in public estimation that it will not only maintain its present enviable reputation but increase in interest as it advances and become the companion of every circle to which it is now a welcome visitor gladdening its presence with its genial influence purifying, and healthful The editor will lend his energies to make it THE MOST POPULAR MAGAZINE of the day and while treating him all of a substance from the literary he will draw from his own exhaustless store
It will continue to maintain its high moral tone and nothing will be admitted into its columns which will minister to the current passions and tendencies of youth or which the mother dying would wish to blot
The design is to offer to the public a Magazine containing all the current and general interest of the light periodicals while it moves in a different path and is not exposed to the same objections
It is issued monthly commencing with May containing 32 pages of original matter printed on fine paper in handsome covers with a splendid steel engraving and colored flower in each number with occasional music and is sent to every part of the United States in the mail at the low yearly sum of $2½ pages full of choice literature and forming an elegant ornament to the parlor table or a pleasant and profitable present to friends
Back numbers and volumes always on hand
Price only $2 per year if paid in advance 3 copies for $5 8 copies for $12
The Press and the public are fully unanimous in the very highest testimonial of the editorial ability of our Magazine and these are daily come with which it is embellished place it at the very first rank in every respect among the thousands of which we select the following
Mr Headley's lively and versatile pen is admirably fitted to give a charm to a work like this
New York Evangelist
Under the editorial charge of J T Headley the most popular writer of the age, we predict a still stronger interest will be taken in this already well known and valuable Magazine The name of Headley alone is a sure guaranty of success
Farmer and Mechanic
The new editor has infused that intense delight in the sorbing interest into its pages for which his writings are remarkable The work has gained in the power which enchains the sympathies and rivets the attention without losing anything of its former chaste and elevated morals and tone
Washington Democrat
We wish the Magazine much success under its present guardianship Advocate and Journal
The editor is well known as one of the most brilliant writers of the day Am Agriculturist
Their motto is to mingle the beautiful with the good N Y Recorder
Mr Headley commences to the present May number liberally in his usual easy style
N Y Tribune
His talents will add greatly to the interest of the publication, and have proved influence in extending its circulation Christian Intelligencer
A few good responsible Agents wanted to circulate the work to whom the best inducements will be offered

BATH July 23, 1847

To our Customed Arm Chair —

An afternoon sail down the Kennebec river in one of the steamers, with a pleasant party of old friends in this beautiful weather, is delightful, and here are many points of high interest to the tourist—the past, and many attractions of modern date in the shape of rich dwellings and fine country seats. The site of old Fort Pownal was pointed out to us and awakened many interesting historical associations. Among them the fact that a hundred years since a party of Indians, attracted by reports of the bravery of those with the Indians and French had erected upon the banks of the Penobscot, not far from the present four miles above the mouth of the Kenduskeag stream, with cornfields and other appearances of rude cultural pursuits thither and fell upon the village. But not one of their approach had been given and the village was deserted. The torch was applied and every wigwam and hut, and the neat church, were all laid in ashes.

Another incident was the weary march of a portion of the men who were with Sir Isaac Hall, in the Penobscot expedition and who landed at Bangor during the revolutionary war and traversed the forest from the Penobscot to the Kennebec, nearly famishing with hunger. But we must not stop here, in this beautiful new city to tell you about old times. The people here are fast forgetting the past, and are looking forward to the future of which the present gives them bright promise.

Among the passengers who accompanied us to this city was our talented and substantial young Whig friend and brother, Mr Chamberlain, editor of the Bath Daily Tribune a station to which he does distinguished honor. We were soon introduced to many friends and in the evening fulfilled an engagement to lecture before the Laborers Association, which has for its object the uplifting of man by earnest efforts to untold and bring into activity all his God given powers, thus looking beyond the mere adornment of the body, the gratification of appetite, and respect to the demands of fashion, for those higher claims of the intellect and the affections which makes man but a little lower than the angels. The notice was short. There was a timidity among many as to the propriety of Ladies attending the meetings of the Association, and as a consequence, the attendance, though respectable, was not large, aside from the members addressed.

We enjoyed a pleasant interview with our worthy friend, Mr Morse, as we said favorably known throughout the State and the country as the efficient member of Congress from the Comet District. We were [illegible] has troops of friends still true to us as instanced from Bangor, Elisha Clark Esq who for a dozen years has so well and faithfully kept upon the public watch tower here erected for the benefit of the Bath Telegraph out of which has grown the Tribune. He has disposed of his interest in the publishing business, and is now enjoying the comfortable fruits of many years of toil. A few moments interview with J F Gilman Esq editor of the Times, impressed us favorably.

A few hours in the morning in taking a view of Bath greatly increased our idea of it as a business place. Ship building and navigation are the great interests here and appear to be well systematized and to be going forward with activity and strength. There is a marked appearance of close industry here and of prosperous business. The city has grown greatly since we were last here several years since. Fact is now much building going on and improvements making. The Rail road has been commenced and is being pushed through. The depot will be upon deep tide waters and convenient for a large business. From several facts which we learned, we think the road position here to help. Those who are willing to be patient selected and very substantial. All are disposed to wish well to their neighbors and rejoice in their prosperity. This gives substantial life and spirit to a place, and inspires confidence in a man to go forward in safe enterprizes.

Great interest is felt here in promoting the education of the youth of the city. There are several fine churches here one of the recently erected is quite a gem. Popular associations flourish here, and Bath is among the best places in the State in which to live. But pleasant as we find the city we must leave this forenoon for Portland.

Yours ever

☞ Mr Edmund Pousland of Salem Mass where he has a wife and four children, was drowned from on board Brig Lexington in our harbor, yesterday. He was on a raft getting in boards, and had disposed of all but one board when the Mate of the Brig cautioned him to be careful or he would tumble in. No matter said he I can swim. Immediately the board canted and down he went feet first. The Mate went instantly to his assistance and thrust his feet down where he sank and felt his head but no attention was paid to it nor did he rise to the surface. Mr P was a sober and worthy man.

☞ Rockwell & Co's equestrian performances here appear to give great satisfaction and will be continued this afternoon and also this evening when the whole power of the company will be brought out for the entertainment of their visitors.

Telegraphic Despatch to the Boston Journal

New York, Monday July 26, Two o'clock, P M.

LATER FROM GEN TAYLOR'S ENCAMPMENT—Late advices have been received from General Taylor's army. The General was waiting at Walnut Springs for reinforcements—2700 of his troops were encamped at Buena Vista.

The Mexicans had 1000 cavalry within six days march of Gen Taylor—and expected large reinforcements from Zacatecas. General Taylor expected to be able to take up his line of march for San Luis in a few days.

Mr Chase, U S C nsul, writes from Tampico that General Scott, on the 30th ult, was within nine miles of the capital. Doubted.

MARKETS.—For Genesee flour $5 62½ and for Western 5 50 is asked, without finding purchasers. A few sales have been made at previous rates.

Sales of 20 000 bushels mixed corn at 62 a 63 cents per bushel, and of prime yellow at 67 a 68 cents.

Rye 1 sale of oats at 50c per bushel.

Operators in cotton are waiting advices by the steamer Washington, now due, or expected.

There is an upward tendency in the pork market.

Arrived—ships Sea Witch, from Canton; Mary (2d) Gladstone from London, Sir R Peel, from Liverpool, Glasgow and Tarquina from Boston, Vesta from Belfast, barks Mary T Ruddick from St Thomas; Hope from Matanzas; Quarlin from New Orleans; brigs Sarah Brown from Sligo, Lowell from Trinidad, Patrico from Boston. Also the Mitchell from Matanzas.

☞ It seems that the expedition from Alvarado headed by Capt Mayo of the Navy, against the guerrilla Padre Jarauta, has proved a success. This partisan warrior or organization is to be troublesome to our foreign affairs—and, it is said, has declared a war of extermination against the Americans—having resolved to kill all who may fall into his hands and every Mexican who has rendered them aid or service.

General Pierce, of N. H.

The Vera Cruz correspondent of the New Orleans Times writes July 9th.

The train to go out with Gen Pierce and escort in a state of forwardness that induces me to believe it will get off to-morrow. Gen Pillow, Gen Quitman and Gen Shields are sick from exposure to the sun and damp. I hope matters will be improved after the march is taken up.

Gen Pierce was attacked with ugly symptoms this morning, but has grown easier as the day advances. I hope there is nothing serious in his case, but so far it is impossible to say.

☞ A letter from a volunteer, published in the Newburyport Herald, states that Lieut Greene and four privates of the Massachusetts volunteers died on their march to Monterey and one after his arrival. Gen Cushing, just beginning to walk, was about to proceed to his command at Saltillo.

☞ A letter written from Chusal and addressed to a person residing in the city of Nantes, in France, by a French missionary stated that several captains of vessels, belonging to the same port of the three states of France, England, and the United States had been received into the presence of the Emperor of Japan, from whom they had obtained the opening of the ports of his kingdom to the commerce of Europe and America.

Excursion to Lead Mountain.

To the Editors of the Whig and Courier—

The elevation bearing the above name, is situated in township No 28 (sometimes called Eastern) lying east of Aurora, and some ten miles from the habitations of men in an unbroken forest.

It has received its name, and some celebrity and interest from a tradition that the Indians have formerly found lead there. A natural curiosity or perhaps the pleasing vision that a fortune might be made by the discovery of a lead mine has been the prompting cause of many a pilgrimage thither.

The writer, in company with an agreeable companion, recently made an excursion there and enjoyed the novelty of camping at night upon the mountain in aboriginal style. And it may interest a certain portion of your readers to know something of the geological features—the elevation consists of granite, capped by a metamorphic rock, of the gneissoid species, and the whole cut through by a powerful dyke of greenstone trap,—a volcanic rock. The metamorphic rock has received a highly crystalline character, from its immediate contact with the trap rock, and its stratification is much distorted and contorted.

It would not be a Geological anomaly to find lead in such a situation as above described—the silver ore veins of all kinds are usually most abundant at or near the junctions of the two distinct rocks, with stratified rocks. But the more probable place to search for lead ores is where trap comes in contact with the gneissoid variety of rock.

It is generally found, in this country, in argillaceous and calcareous rocks near the intrusion of trap—frequently in the veins of quartz which traverse these rocks.

In Lubec, and other places on the eastern coast of Maine, it is found in limestone and in argillaceous and calcareous slate. In Vermont it occurs in an argillaceous slate in quartz gangue. In New York and the Western States it is found in limestone.

At Lead Mountain, one might look for bog iron ore, in the ravines of the mountain, and yellow lands at the base, with greater chance of success than for lead for the granite and intruded trap rock are highly charged with iron, and as decomposition takes place, this may be washed down to the low lands and deposited—but the area of the mountain's surface is not sufficiently extensive to warrant the expectation of finding a large quantity.

City Affairs.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, July 26, 1847

Petitions presented and referred—

—Of J Moulton et als to have Central Street bridge repaired—sent down.

—Of J S Ayer et als to have Pine street laid out from Southeast to Cumberland street, referred to Committee on Streets.

—Of J R Fisher et als for new School House.

—Of A R Greenough for allowance for damage.

Reports—

—Of the City Solicitor on petition of Joshua Norwood, accepted.

—Of Committee on the Fire Department, for the appropriation of $1,253 for payment of new Engine.

—Of Joint Special Committee on the subject of side walks. That the sidewalks in this city are almost entirely composed of hemlock plank; a material that rots quick and requires to be renewed as often as every six or seven years, at an average cost of eight hundred dollars per mile. As near as can be ascertained without actual measurement, we have from six to seven miles of the kind of sidewalk in the city, and it will be greatly increased from year to year if the Council is disposed to grant the urgent requests of citizens for additional conveniences of the kind.

Your Committee are unanimously of opinion that a more durable material should be procured, even at the hazzard of a higher first cost—in looking for material to be used as a substitute for plank, your committee are satisfied that a resort to flagstone and gravel will be best and in the end, the cheapest. An inexhaustable supply of gravel we believe at hand on the front of the city farm, which may be brought in scows and landed on our wharves at a small expense, or carted directly where it is wanted.

Flagstones may be had in abundance and of superior quality, but the distance of transportation will be greater.

Your committee have examined several quarries on the different islands in Penobscot bay, and cape Roseway. The quarry at Dark Harbor on Long Island about forty five miles from the city, strikes them the most favorably as the spot where an ample supply of the best stone may be procured at a trifling expense over that of transportation.

The awful expense of quarrying and freight will be best ascertained by experiment, but as near as we have been able to figure it up, the cost of the stone landed on our wharves will be about the same for a given surface as hemlock sidewalks are at present. In order to ascertain as nearly as possible the cost of the stone, and the quality and fitness for the purposes required, your committee would recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

—Of committee on accounts and claims on several bills—accepted.

—Of Committee on Streets and highways on several orders and petitions on streets—several accepted.

Orders passed in concurrence—

That the Street Commissioner be directed to procure as soon as maybe, a cargo of flag stones from the quarry at Dark Harbor, on Long Island, to be used as a substitute for plank in the construction of sidewalks, as recommended by the joint special committee of the City Council, the cost of quarrying, freight, and all other expenses of the same, and likewise the length and breadth of sidewalk, that may be made from said cargo.

—That the Mayor and Street Commissioner be hereby directed to cause all obstructions within the limits of the several streets leading to tide waters in the city to be removed forthwith, so that the public may have the free use of said streets.

—That the Street Commissioner cause that portion of the road from John Legro's to six miles Falls which remains unmade, to be completed the present season.

—That the Streets Engineers lay out Central Street Boynton street and the road to Six Miles Falls.

Order for the choice of two commissioners to revise and printing the city ordinances, taken up and passed in concurrence.

Communication of Hall Bowman, resigning the office of Treasurer and Collector.

—That James R Macomber, Wm S Mitchell, and Leroy S Dean be authorized and directed in behalf of land for the Board of Aldermen, to cause the exterior lines of the city to be peramburated and run, and to set up stone monuments according to law, when the same do not already exist, and to report their doings to the Board if Aldermen.

Where the air is soft where flowers bloom
And the rose by its fragrant breath is known
Where the dancing fairies star are seen,
Holding their revels on the silvered green,
Where the sky lark weaves its strains of song
Soaring to greet the rosy dawn,
Where the forests wave and the wild bird calls
To its mate near the rushing waterfall.

By thy thoughts counted where the stars are bright
Within the shadows of the creamy night,

Quick tremulous sparks from its flashing wings,
Where the waters in earliest sunshine play,
Sparkling and gliding o'er the sands away.

May thy last rest be where the sun is pouring
His golden glories in its souls adoring
Where glor fied spirits their praises prolong
With their gentle harps and in the swelling song,
Where rays ads of angels in full chorus raise
Their voices in one loud anthem of praise,

☞ We copy the following interesting speculations and statistics from the London correspondent of the N Y Commercial Advertiser, in der date of July 3d. It will be seen that the writer thinks the demand for foreign grain will continue to exist for a long time to come, even if the present years crops are as abundant as the most sanguine are led to hope. We cannot believe, however, that his speculations are entitled to entire confidence. According to him, the deficiency in wheat this year will amount to 140,000,000 of bushels, considerably more than the whole produce of wheat in the U S—it must be borne in mind, however, that Indian corn, which is so extensively used in this country, as an article of food, has not till recently found much favor in Great Britain, and it is mainly from that grain that the anticipated deficiency is to be made up.

"Of course the sole subject of attention is the prospect of coming harvest. Hitherto the weather has continued fine and the promise is every where extremely good. The accounts of the potato crop during the last week or two have been of a less unfavorable character, although no doubt can be entertained that the old disease has very generally manifested itself. Under these circumstances the disposition has been toward over cautiousness and large speculations for a rise.
